SAWYER AND LEMIRE [illegible] FOR SALE [illegible]
[illegible]

FROM THE UPPER COUNTRY.—We take the following from the Walla Walla Statesman:

Messrs. Geo. Kelly and James Sproul, who have been in charge of a portion of the stock belonging to the Boise Stage line, ranching and otherwise caring for them some four miles below town, during the winter, have got the animals in fat and excellent condition. These gentlemen will start towards Boise, about the 10th of March, with their band of some one hundred horses, which are to assume their places on the upper end of the stage line.

Mullan's and Schnebly's bridges, on the Touchet, were swept away by a sudden rise and gorging of ice in the river. Mullan's bridge was swept entirely away. Mr. Schnebly caught his and is rebuilding it, and will have it ready for the travel by the middle of next week. The county bridge on the Wallula road, escaped uninjured.

All the bridges on Dry Creek, excepting the county bridge on the Wallula road, were swept away at the same time.

Some of the farmers in the valley have commenced plowing preparatory to putting in their spring crops.

Two or three small parties of miners have left the city this week for the Kootenai and Upper Columbia mines. The reason given by them for starting thus early is that the traveling is much better now than it will be a month hence when the snow begins to melt and raise the rivers and lakes along the route.

A man named —— McAvoy, aged about 36 years, was drowned, by the upsetting of a canoe, near the mouth of the Walla Walla, on Saturday morning last. He was engaged, with others, in surveying a site for a bridge across the river on the new road leading from Wallula, when the canoe upset, and he, being unable to swim, was drowned.

The water will be let into the Eagle Creek ditch early next month, or as soon as it quits freezing in the mountains. A few more weeks, then, will test the richness of the Eagle Creek mines.

Mr. L. Burt's pack-train—thirty animals—loaded at Schwabacker Bros. & Co.'s on Monday with flour and groceries and left for Kootenai. Mr. B. has grain stored at different points along the route for his animals, and intends to make the trip direct through to Fisherville.

FROM BURNT RIVER.—A correspondent, writing from Burnt river to the Walla Walla Statesman under date of February 16th says:

They have had three months of severe winter there, and it was snowing fast at that date. The snow was then three feet deep on a level. Poor cattle were still dying off very fast there excepting those on Dixie Creek, near Scott's Ranch, on the south hill-sides of which snow has not lain on the ground thirty-six hours at a time all winter.

An avalanche of snow came down the mountains on Burnt river, near Wilson & Sicily's ranch, on the 13th, and came near catching some of Weston's freight teams. Three of his teams had got past the slide before the snow came down and two were just behind it. The snow dammed the river up and flooded the bottom and road with snow and water to a depth of three to six feet, rendering the road impassable for two or three days.

The bridges are not all completed on Burnt river yet, but will be in a short time. There is but little travel on the road just now, but there are ample accommodations for travelers.

Prospectors have found six and eight dollar diggings on Burnt River this winter. The diggings are about a mile above Scott's ranch. Besides this, several quartz ledges have been discovered, which prospects equally as well as the Rockfellow lode. It is believed that Burnt River will yet prove to be a very rich mining camp. Prospectors will do well to give it a trial.

MEN DROWNED.—We learn that five men were drowned on Friday night, the 17th, in attempting to cross from Port Blakely to Seattle, in a canoe, against the advice of all who saw them start. They were watched until about a mile from shore when the canoe went down. The baggage of the party and the sail belonging to the canoe were picked up by a plunger at Salmon Bay. With the baggage were some letters directed to Mr. Forsyth, at Seabeck. The party had been paid off at Blakely Mills, by drafts, and were on their way to Seattle to get them cashed, preparatory to going to the mines.—Pacific Tribune.

THE WORLD RENOWNED
SINGER SEWING MACHINES!
MANUFACTORY:
182, 151, 186, 189, 193 and 197 Mott street, New York.

Merit—The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can sew all kinds of Cloth, and with all kinds of Thread.

Singer's Letter A Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the world for Family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines for manufacturing purposes, but it is only of late that the public begin to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the heaviest work, would also be the elements to be embodied in a Family Machine.

We would ask for our Letter A Machine the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the principles of the Manufacturing Machines, [illegible] the interlocked stitch, and are destined [illegible] FAMILY SEWING and Light Manufacturing purposes, as our Manufacturing Machines [illegible] in general.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are valuable in proportion to the number of things they can do well. [illegible]

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH [illegible] 1865.

Radicalism.

It is very true that the sentiment of the nation is changing rapidly upon many important questions, and that progress makes the character of the times. It is also true that such revolutionary times are apt to cultivate extreme ideas and induce hasty action upon the most important questions.

With the fact that slavery is to soon be extinct, comes the question: What shall be the social and political standing of the slave when he becomes a freeman? and the extremist, who, upon abstract principles of human right, has been clamoring always for the abolition of slavery, and urging that measure, regardless of State rights and Constitutional guaranties, immediately [illegible] nouncing that he must be enfranchised, with all the rights and privileges of the citizen.

Slavery is disappearing—destroyed by rebellion, having first threatened the destruction of the very Constitution that compelled our Government to recognize and sustain it; it will finally end, and cease to be, when the thunders of the civil war it has evoked shall no longer be heard. But this is not accomplished yet. Armies still aim at the destruction of the Union, and the slave, in most of the Southern States, obeys his master as he ever has done. Let us finish the work before we complicate the present troublous times with the question of the future standing of the slave, or even of the negro, be he free or slave.

Strange as it may seem a Senator from Missouri, B. Gratz Brown, is heard enunciating the idea that the freedom of the negro must [illegible] so cure him equal political rights. It seems as if the Border States were to be the ones, from the present moment, to force radical ideas upon the Nation. The future may, and doubtless will, bring up the question of the political status of the negro, and when, in proper time, it arises, it must be met and answered; but the present has its own share of danger and difficulty, and the surges of insurrection must cease before we can find proper occasion to extend discussion that far. The same Providence that—in shaping the success and destiny of this people decrees that slavery, being a crime against nature, shall pay the penalty of crime and die—will control the issue of the present conflict, and declare the future destiny of the slave. The man who—knowing the situation and ignorance of the African race in our country—favors the extension of the privileges of citizenship to them, is surely reckless of consequences, and regardless of the future result. The ignorance that now exists in the foreign and native born citizens of the United States, offers a bid to the pandering demagogue and the reckless politician, and politics now consists too much in attempts to make political capital out of the credulous and the uninformed. Launch upon the State a million of black voters, and the consequences are not to be conceived. We have no idea that such is the intention of any considerable proportion of the American people. We merely wish to deprecate any fanatical excess to follow the establishing of our Union upon a more firm foundation than it ever knew before.

Abolition was originally preached by fanatics, and as the event they sought to bring about by force of circumstances, has become a fact almost accomplished, they naturally throw themselves far ahead in the future and clamor for negro suffrage as vehemently as they once did for abolition. They never accomplished any good results by their utter zeal. Nor can they now. Wendell Phillips is a type of his class, and he expresses himself as follows:

"Give the negro the ballot, and he will not ask you to protect him, he will protect himself. Let me see a man in Boston tread on the humblest Irish boy in Boston streets, and I will give him the twelve papers of Boston for his enemies and Henry Wilson for his patron within a week. And the reason is that the humblest Irishman in Boston has a vote; therefore it will not do to irritate him; and the humblest fringe of the garment of his nation is thus effectually protected. So it will be with the negro. Give him the ballot in Louisiana or Alabama, and the demagogues of both parties will be cap in hand before him."

The last sentence offers a state of things we have no desire to see consummated. "Cap in hand," the demagogues have ever been to ignorance, and the attempts to cajole the classes that are least fitted to govern, have resulted in bringing upon us most of the evils of the present day.

The negroes as a class possess no capacity for self-government, and the few who have intelligence enough to take part in public affairs are offset by the multitude who do not. There again this nation of the white race should well ponder the question before it admits the African, the Mongolian and the Indian to all its privileges. We can be just to them without that, and the moment the negro become a citizen the foreign born citizens will be found arrayed upon one side and the negro on the other, and the political combinations would assume an irrepressible antagonism founded not upon principles but upon races. The spirit that John Brown evoked should not be permitted to survive this war.

BRIG. GEN. ALVORD.—We announced yesterday that General Alvord had received orders to report immediately to Head Quarters at Washington, and he will soon take his departure for the East. General Alvord is from the State of Vermont, graduated at West Point, and was a Captain in the Mexican war, where he distinguished himself by his gallantry. Some ten years ago he first came to Oregon, and had command at Fort Dalles. When the war broke out he was made Brigadier General of Volunteers, and for some time past has had command of the district of Oregon. He has thoroughly identified himself with the Government in the present struggle, and has spared no effort to sustain it in this district. He has also always manifested a deep interest in the welfare of Oregon and Washington Territory, and has always retained the entire confidence of the Union men.

General Alvord is a student, a man of considerable attainments, and has at some time delivered interesting lectures before our literary and agricultural societies. He has our best wishes, at parting, that he may have a pleasant trip to the East, and a prosperous and honorable career in the service of his country, as his services and qualifications warrant us in believing that he will command the confidence of the Government as long as he has sustained that of the Union men here.

EUGENE CITY [illegible].—We learn from the letter of a friend that [illegible] guns were fired at Eugene City, on receiving the news of the fall of Charleston.

The agricultural prospects of California were never better than for the coming harvest, and it is thought a large amount of grain will be raised there.

North Carolina Items.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—A Wilmington (N. C.) correspondent says: A large number of Union prisoners were released by the capture of that place, who were confined in Camp Lamb, about a mile from the city, and their treatment was of the most brutal character. [illegible]

The Herald's Newbern (N. C.) correspondent describes the demoralized condition of the rebel forces in North Carolina, and says there is a disposition on the part of the soldiers and civilians to return to the Union on the best terms they can get.

Deserters from the rebel army are constantly coming into the Union lines.

A small party of Union cavalry and infantry recently made an expedition to Washington, N. C., where they captured quite a number of rebel soldiers.

Rebels Going to be Jubilant.

The Richmond Examiner of the 24th says: The Yankee forces east of the Mississippi do not exceed 125,000 men, and at least the south is being conquered by one-third her numbers. It makes an earnest appeal to southerners to come forward and help drive the invaders.

The Enquirer says: A large number of our readers would like to know the whereabouts of Forrest. We suggest to them be quiet for a few days more, and he will bring tidings to every true Southern heart, as he is now getting ready; and when he does move he will make the sound of his coming heard among the negroes and Yankees in the West.

The Enquirer says the rebels do not want more men, because they cannot clothe and feed them, and declares they cannot avail themselves of the recruits now offering. It complains of the inadequacy of present daily rations to satisfy the hunger of the men in the army.

The Montgomery, Ala., Mail says: Dick Taylor's secret service [illegible] efficient. No strangers are allowed in that city without surveillance. Every man who cannot show perfect papers is sent to the front at once.

The Mobile Advertiser complains of high prices in that city. Everything is at starvation rates.

Day of Rejoicing.—It will be seen by the following that many of our loyal and patriotic citizens contemplate closing their business houses, after the hour of 10 A. M. to-morrow, unless in some cases they are prevented by a rush incident to steamer day:

Saturday, the 4th inst., [illegible] being the day [illegible] to celebrate the recent victories [illegible] by our Army and Navy, and the capture of Charleston and other places by the Union forces, and the re-hoisting of the Old Flag over the walls of Fort Sumter, therefore in order to give that day to rejoicing with our sister cities, both east and west, we the undersigned, will close our houses of business on said day after the hour of 10 o'clock A. M.

Sanitary Festival.—The ladies of the Sanitary Aid Society of this city, we learned last evening, propose to give a supper on Saturday, in furtherance of the objects of their mission, and would like to obtain any articles suitable for the event that may be contributed. The principal cities of the two great oceans intend to grasp each other at mid-day, in their mutual rejoicings over the important achievements of the noble defenders of our National integrity, and the blood that has been sacrificed to obtain these things should be remembered, the sick in hospital restored, and for what has been done by the Commission we cordially recommend its work. The ladies of our city have chosen an eventful day to secure more assistance for the soldiers. It is confidently hoped that the re-inauguration of our President will act with double force, in conjunction with the general rejoicings, to drive the mightiest spike that shall seal rebellion's doom, and the matter will be soon terminated. It would be fruitless to attempt to enumerate the mercies of the Sanitary Commission, and that our ladies may be encouraged in their efforts of Saturday, we speak for them all assistance possible, from the liberal and patriotic portion of this community.

Encounter at the City Jail.—About nine o'clock last evening, as Policemen Saunders and Ball were attending to their official duties at the City Jail, they were beset by a band of "roughs" and had an exciting tussle, to avoid the liberation of certain prisoners. The former gentleman was knocked down and had his revolver wrested from him, while he held on to one of the "birds" and was dragged literally into the street. Mr. Ball was engaged with another in a cell, or the passage-way, and was for a time unable to give Mr. Saunders any assistance, but the two officers succeeded in capturing four of the gentry, who will have a hearing at Recorder McCoy's levee this morning. The case was a premeditated assault apparently, and bears the evidence that we have a lawless band in our midst whose especial deserts should be meted out in unequivocal justice. The want of a right system of police regulations for the safety of the city is no longer a myth, but has stood out in prominent characters for some time. We have at present a few reliable men on duty, but the number should be more than doubled, in order to make it effective.

Daring Attempt at Robbery.—Yesterday morning, between the hours of two and four o'clock, some person or persons unknown, entered the Oro Fino saloon, on Stark street, armed with a chisel and sledge-hammer, and attempted to break into the safe of Messrs. Lappeus & Knowles. They succeeded in bursting the combination of the lock, and would have been able in a short time to empty the safe of its contents, but through ignorance or from fright, failed in their object. The safe is one of Lillie's patent, and the burglars had probably been led to the commission of the act by reading the account of how proceedings in such matters had been accomplished in San Francisco, as stated in the advertisement of a rival manufacturer. It was a daring affair, as the place is regularly patroled by two of the best Police of the city. The sledge supposed to have been used in the attempted robbery, was found in a lot on First street; and although parties are suspicioned, no clue, sufficient for their arrest, has been obtained.

Dalton's Gallery.—The old-time gallery on First street, known for years as Bachtel & Cardwell's, as a pleasant resort for procuring photo's, cartes de visite, etc., has passed into the proprietorship of F. Dalton, Esq., and has been fitted up in excellent order for business. The cabinets, collections of rare species in natural history, etc., have received a new dressing, and the place is really more attractive now than ever before. The facilities for operating are much increased, by additional rooms, and every attention will be given for the accommodation of patrons. Mr. Desmond, late of Shew's gallery in San Francisco, who is known for his ability as an artist, has arrived here and will assume control as the leading operator. See Mr. D.'s card, in another column.

Circuit Court.—In the case of Brannan vs. Elwert in Circuit Court yesterday, a verdict was rendered for plaintiff in the sum of $84 in coin, and $112 in Legal Tender notes, and the Court ordered that lot 4 in block 29, be subject to lein of $84 40 in coin, and $50 in Legal Tenders, and sold to satisfy the judgment. The Faro case of the State vs. M. Keith, was dismissed. The case of Joseph Knott vs. Frush's Ferry-boat was submitted by the Jury.

Masonic Funeral.—The fraternity of which Mr. Ebinger deceased, was a member, in this city, turned out to pay him their last tribute of respect yesterday, and followed his remains in company with a large number of friends, to the final resting place at East Portland Cemetery. The religious services were conducted at the house by Rev. P. E. Hyland. The Masonic rites were performed at the grave.

Skating.—The pond afforded sliding for the boys a short time yesterday morning but the wind, veering to the southward was unhealthy for the ice, and it went through, with half a dozen boys on it, who received an extreme immersion. This state of the weather did not last the entire day, however, as last evening it was very "squally" again, with snow.

Lost to the City.—Besides being an expense to the city, it is an aggravation, that the "subjects" of the Recorder's Court are not obliged to work out their term on the streets, in a chain gang. The proceedings of the past two days' Court shows, that nine days' labor is lost, for the want of an ordinance on the question.

Theatrical.—Another good house witnessed the play at the Willamette Theatre, last evening, and were very much interested with the talent displayed, in a proper rendition of "Damon and Pythias." No performance will be given this evening. To-morrow evening "The Moors in Spain," will be enacted.

The Concert given at Turn Verein Hall, last evening, was a success. We feel like giving the performers a "first-rate" notice, but we are prohibited, for want of time, in this issue.

India rubber, gum [illegible], and other choice gums and essences of the vegetable kingdom, are the principal ingredients of these celebrated plasters. While they are possessed of all the soothing and warming qualities of almost every other plaster of the United States Dispensatory, they are without many of their inconveniences. In the language of one who has experienced much benefit from their application in a chronic disease of the kidneys: "They stick closer than a brother, and don't run like a false friend." For weakness of the back, pain in the side, stomach or chest, and for the alleviation of the pain attending rheumatism, they are without an equal.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be in the possession of everybody in the mining regions. As a protective of various dangerous diseases to which the gold seeker is liable [illegible]. While it is quite palatable even as a beverage, it is speedy and powerful in its effects upon the system. In all cases of Diarrhea, Dysentery, and the prevailing fever consequent upon exposure, the Bitters will be found invaluable as a corrective. No man should enter upon the exposed and hard life of a miner without being provided with Hostetter's preventive of stomach disease, nor should any of those who are now engaged in the occupation fail to have recourse to the Bitters. Brandreth's Pills—Their Qualities.—In small doses the effect of Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills is to increase the activity of the [illegible] and excreting organs. The alvine discharged becomes more liquid and contains a larger proportion of bile. The operation of this extraordinary medicine [illegible] the membranes of the lungs, of the eyes, and all the membranes become moist, the skin becomes damper and [illegible] where too cold, and [illegible] too warm, so that Brandreth's Pills seem to vitalize and promote excretions generally. In large doses, say from five to ten Pills, they act as a powerful purgative, cleansing the bowels first of their contents, and then acting upon the internal organs, cleansing them of slime, mucus, or any [illegible] not required for their healthy action. Thus the action of Brandreth's Pills is what is required to bring about that state in all the organs which results in their full restoration to health. The blood vessels, as well as the blood, are thus restored to perfect purity and vigor.

A Soldier [illegible] the Diary

[illegible]

Romance of a Cedar.—It appears that about [illegible] years ago [illegible] de Jussieu, the celebrated [illegible] was travelling in the Holy Land, [illegible] got away with him from among the cedars of Mount Lebanon a little seedling. Being unprovided with better means of conveying it, he made a flower pot of his hat, in which he planted it. He got it safely on board the vessel in which he sailed for France, but the tempestuous weather and contrary winds drove the ship out of her course, [illegible] the voyage so much that the water [illegible] ran short. All on board were put on short allowance, the crew having [illegible] were allowed one glassful of water in the day, the passengers [illegible]. [illegible] Jussieu to refrain from drinking the whole of his small daily allowance, and to reserve some for the plant, and probably no one [illegible] would have dreamed of such an act of self-sacrifice. But his enthusiasm sustained him. All through the long heated voyage, under the bright sun of the Mediterranean, he shared his half glass full of water with the little plant. His own strength began to sink under the prolonged privation; but he never flinched, and arrived at Marseilles with his own health damaged, but with that of his little plant uninjured. At this stage the story somewhat [illegible] the imagination of its narrators [illegible] borrowed from our own times [illegible] goes on to tell us that, on landing, the exhausted botanist had nearly lost the whole benefit of his self-denial from the incredulity of the Custom House officers, who could not understand or believe in the [illegible] and insisted on emptying the strange pot, to see if there were no "undeclared lace," jewels, or prohibited articles buried beneath the roots of the seedling. Entreaties and eloquent appeals to his past sufferings on its behalf at last softened their hearts, and he was allowed to carry [illegible] the cedars of Lebanon undisturbed. He brought it to Paris and placed it in the Jardin des Plantes. It grew rapidly, and, as it grew, became more and more a favorite with the people. Its little story spread, and its romantic [illegible] associations completed the charm. When in later days it had assumed the proportions of a gigantic tree, the people crowded to it on the fete-days, when the garden was thrown open to the public. The blind from their asylum, the deaf and dumb from theirs, and the inmates of the various hospitals, all bent their steps to it. Its gigantic top was visible from the uppermost cells in the prison of St. Pelagie, which at that time stood at the end of the garden, and the prisoners who could procure a little money gladly paid it to be allowed to rent the cells from which the upper boughs of the cedar could be seen. It grew and flourished until it reached one hundred years of age and eighty feet in height. In its one hundredth year (1837) it was cut down to make room for a railway.—Edinburgh Review.

How the Veteran Makes Himself Comfortable.—An army letter has the following description of the manner in which a veteran soldier makes himself comfortable in camp:

"It is a trite remark that a man never knows how much he can do [illegible] until he tries it, but it is more to my present purpose to say that he never knows how little he can make to answer [illegible] until he makes the experiment. Nobody perceives this [illegible] as an old veteran. Put a recruit into a forest of pine trees with his shelter tent, and if he have nothing but [illegible] about, [illegible] ten to one you will find him under his shelter tent three weeks from that time.

Not so with the veteran. If he be camped in the forest, give him an old ax, a [illegible], a mud paddle, a board or two and a handful of nails, and he builds him a house, and a house, too, comfortable and [illegible] and not wanting in architectural beauty. First he fells his trees, and cuts and notches his logs, and lays them together to the required height. His roof he puts on, giving it a great slope, and [illegible] it with the [illegible] of the pine tops. [illegible]

He has been careful to leave window space, and tacking pieces of his shelter tent over these he has good light and keeps out the nipping air of winter. Then with his board he makes his door, and, the bootleg supplying hinges, it soon swings into place. Then he fills the space between the logs with soft earth from his mud-paddle, and his house is done, except the chimney, and the forest and the mud paddle soon provide that, for his chimney is nothing but a pile of sticks plentifully plastered without and within with mud. Then with his old ax he manufactures out of pine logs a full assortment of furniture, bedstead, chairs, table, wardrobe, and generally adds a [illegible]. Then, with a bright fire upon his hearth, he is prepared to laugh at winter, and generally does."

When the celebrated General Wolfe, at that time a Lieutenant Colonel in the English army, was riding over the field of battle with the Duke of Cumberland, they observed a Highlander, who, although severely wounded, was able to sit up, and leaning on his arm seemed to smile defiance at them. "Wolfe," said the Duke, "shoot me that Highland scoundrel, who dares to look upon us with such insolent contempt and [illegible]." "My commission," replied the [illegible], "is at your royal highness's disposal, but I can never consent to become an executioner!" The Highlander [illegible] the conqueror of Quebec. But it was remarked by the [illegible] that Colonel Wolfe [illegible] in the [illegible] of the Commander in Chief.

A [illegible] Hint to Mothers.—A [illegible] correspondent of the [illegible] recommends the application of [illegible] as a speedy and [illegible] cure for [illegible] ness in the [illegible]. It may be obtained at the drug stores, and a few cents worth [illegible]. In places where the prepared drug cannot be readily obtained, a strong decoction of oak and hemlock bark [illegible] twice a day, for a few days [illegible] the purpose [illegible].

The [illegible] is not always to the swift [illegible] men should remember that the [illegible] is seldom to the "fast."

ALLEN'S

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS attended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable ever discovered. Portland, Oregon, June 13, 1864.

Proclamation.

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
January 12th, 1865.

WHEREAS I HAVE RECEIVED A REQUISITION from Major General Irwin McDowell, commanding the Department of the Pacific, acting under the authority of the War Department, for a regiment of Cavalry for a further term of years, by retaining in whole or in part the Regimental and Company organization of the present Oregon Regiment of Cavalry, to aid in the enforcement of the laws, to suppress insurrection and invasion, and to chastise hostile Indians in this Military District.

Now, therefore, I, Addison C. Gibbs, Governor of the State of Oregon and Commander in Chief of the Militia thereof, do hereby call upon the citizens of this State to organize themselves into Companies sufficient to fill the foregoing requisition.

[L. S.] In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Oregon to be affixed. Done at Salem this 12th day of January, A. D. 1865.

ADDISON C. GIBBS,
Governor of Oregon.

Attest: SAMUEL E. MAY,
Secretary of State.

Plan of Recruiting.

The Regiment will retain the name of the 1st Cavalry Oregon Volunteers. It will consist of twelve Companies—seven Companies of the old Regiment will be recruited to the maximum strength required. Five new Companies remain to be raised. A Recruiting Officer for each new Company will be appointed.

Commissions will be issued by the Governor to Recruiting Officers, conditioned that they shall recruit their respective Companies in the District to which they are assigned, and be ready to be mustered into the service within a time hereafter to be named. All the Officers for the new Companies and the First and Second Lieutenants for the old ones will be appointed as soon as the Companies are filled.

As soon as it is practicable, the State will be divided into Districts, according to the number of persons in each liable to do military duty and to the number of troops heretofore furnished. When such Districts shall have furnished its quota of men there will be no draft in the same under this call.

The State has provided by law for the payment of a bounty of $150 in State interest-bearing bonds, payable in gold, to each Volunteer mustered into the service for three years, in addition to the bounties authorized to be paid by the United States.

Under Act of Congress, those who enlist for one year are entitled to a bounty from the General Government of one hundred dollars; for two years, two hundred dollars, and for three years, three hundred dollars, one-third of which is payable at the time of muster-in. Neither [illegible] nor substitutes—furnished either before or after the draft—are entitled to a bounty.

The wages of a Private soldier are $16 a month, besides clothing, equipments, rations, medicines and medical attendance, and other allowances furnished by the United States.

The pay per month is to 1st Sergeants of Cavalry, $24; Sergeants, $20; Corporals $18; Buglers, $16. A Company can be mustered in on reaching a minimum of 82 enlisted men.

All the Horses for enlisted men will be furnished by the Government.

Appreciating highly the patriotic action of the people in responding to the previous call for an Infantry Regiment, it is hoped that equal alacrity will be exhibited in raising a Regiment of Cavalry.

Organization of a Regiment.

One Colonel,
One Lieut.-Colonel,
Three Majors,
One Surgeon,
Two Assistant Surgeons,

LEFFEL'S AMERICAN

DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

LEFFEL'S AMERICAN TURBINE HAS many advantages over all other Wheels, both Turbine and Overshot. [illegible] It has competed successfully with every variety of Wheel, and has always proved itself victorious.

This Wheel has been in use nearly Three Years in the States and HAS NEVER MADE A FAILURE.

The CHEAPEST, is an overshot, MORE DURABLE, and will YIELD A HIGHER PER CENT. OF POWER from the same quantity of water. We have introduced several on this Coast. They are not all in operation yet, but will be in a few days. The following testimonial is from an old and experienced Mill-wright, well known in this State:

WESTPORT, CLATSOP CO., OREGON, }
Nov. 10th, 1864. }

Messrs. Leffel & Myers—Dear Sirs: We have plenty of water now, and your DOUBLE TURBINE is in successful operation. We are satisfied that your Wheel is fully equal, if not superior to the Overshot. With the same water that the Overshot used, we can do more work with the Turbine than with the Overshot. I have tried many Wheels which were claimed to be superior to an Overshot, but yours is the first I have found. Hence we do not hesitate to recommend the American Double Turbine as the most efficient and economical Water Wheel in our knowledge.

JOHN WEST & CO.

We desire all who want Wheels to visit the following named places and have a full demonstration of the above facts:

John West & Co. West Port, Clatsop, County, Oregon;
Lewis Love, Vancouver W. T.;

THE OREGONIAN,

A

FIRST-CLASS POLITICAL AND FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Published Daily and Weekly.

PROSPECTUS FOR THE FIFTEENTH VOLUME,

Commencing November 19th, 1864.

The character of the OREGONIAN, which has been regularly issued for fourteen years, (being the oldest newspaper in the State,) has become so well established, and is so favorably known, that we hardly deem it necessary at the present time to announce that it will continue to be a FIRST-CLASS INDEPENDENT FAMILY AND POLITICAL NEWSPAPER. We shall spare no effort, as always, for the further improvement and progress, and to make the OREGONIAN not only a complete compendium of current news and passing events, but also a pleasant fireside companion and a faithful commercial guide. It will contain full reports of important naval, military, and political movements, with Stories, Sketches, Poetry, Editorials upon current topics, Correspondence from different sources and Telegraphic Dispatches up to the time of going to press.

It is the only paper in Oregon that gives full and ungarbled Telegraphic Reports, and that receives those reports in full, expressly for its own columns.

The size of the WEEKLY is much enlarged with the commencement of the present volume, but the price remains still at the low sum of THREE DOLLARS per annum, hoping thereby to secure an increase of circulation to reward our enterprise.

Our columns will be devoted to the advocacy of Union principles, and we hope in a candid and courteous discussion of political principles to command readers of every political complexion and the respect of all our readers.

We shall specially endeavor to conserve the interests and merit the patronage of the large and important mining regions of Idaho, Washington and our own State, to publish all matters of interest relating thereto, and do justice to their growth and importance, and shall endeavor to receive interesting and reliable correspondence from that section of country.
